

EKATERINA VOROSHILINA

The main field of scientific interest is reproductive tract microbiota assessment and its correlation with various reproduction disorders. As head of the laboratory department at the “Garmonia” Medical Center, a very reputable clinic specializing in gynecology, andrology and reproduction, I constantly implement new methods of microbiota assessment and translate them into clinical practice. · Author of more than 190 articles published in Russian and international journals. · Head of Laboratory Department (3 MDs, 1 MD/PhD, 9 technicians) · Academic supervisor of research laboratory for young (< 35 years) scientists “Laboratory of ontogenetic and age-related disorders” (5 Doctors of Medicine, 7 MD/PhD, 10 MD, 4 lab technicians, 4 students) · Laureate of the national Russian award for best doctors “Vocation” in 2014 in nomination “For the creation of a new diagnostic method.